I don't know how to fix this problem. A: Your code is fine. It makes two calls to `os.getcwd()` and concatenates those. It would not be surprising to observe that it does not change. You can make a call to a decorated function to check if the working directory changed. `import os def working_directory(): path = os.getcwd() return path print(working_directory()) print(working_directory()) print(working_directory())` Output: `$ python3 test.py ./test.py ./test.py ./test.py` Climate change and the funding of research: what is the level of government commitment in Africa? The Caribbean Commission for the Protection and Promotion of the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and the Environment, known as the Caribbean Commission, is a regional intergovernmental body which has been operational since 2000. This paper draws on a case study in the West African francophone part of the commission to consider the extent to which governmental commitment to climate change mitigation, adaptation
